03 Competitive Landscape

Other vendors in this market: Accenture · Aziro · Bain & Company · Booz Allen Hamilton · Boston Consulting Group · Capgemini · Cognizant · DXC Technology

Where it sits: Deloitte's distinguishing move is the same one BCG made, at a different scale: building rather than only advising. Zora AI is a product business, and the IOC relationship is the most directly relevant proof point for infrastructure

04 GIP & BlackRock Connections

GIP became a wholly-owned BlackRock subsidiary in October 2024 and now operates as BlackRock's dedicated infrastructure-investment arm. Stakes below are standard institutional/index-fund positions unless otherwise noted.

Entity	Possible connection
Global Infrastructure Partners	No publicly disclosed GIP relationship. As the largest audit and advisory network, an existing relationship at PortCo or fund level — audit, tax or transaction services
BlackRock	No publicly disclosed operating relationship.

05 Sentiment

Customer: Scale and growth are the available evidence: 4.8% local-currency growth to $70.5B, with the Americas up 7.1%. The geography tells a more nuanced story

What supports the story	What to pressure-test
• Largest professional services firm in the world by revenue and headcount — first to cross $70B • Building a product business (Zora AI, with NVIDIA) rather than only selling advisory hours • $3B committed to generative and agentic AI through FY2030 — a genuine multi-year commitment, not a campaign	• Growth of 4.8% trails Accenture's 7% and Cognizant's 7% — scale is not translating into pace • Deloitte UK posted its first revenue decline in fifteen years, and the US federal practice cut jobs • The member-firm structure means the global figure describes a network, not a contracting entity; quality and capability vary by geography

Employee: Headcount rose to over 470,000 from 460,000, but that net figure conceals job cuts at member firms around the world, including at Deloitte US's federal government practice.
